

In the South Pole, situation seems to be much more positive

Through out 1978 to 2023, there was an increase in percentage of ice average extent in most years, though a huge drop in 1979.

Source: National Snow & Ice Data Center

Note: Missing data in years of 1978 and 1987